

2018 INS Election Results

President-Elect

Margaret O'Connor, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor of Neurology at Harvard Medical School where she is the Director of Neuropsychology. She is the Co-Chair of the Medical & Scientific Committee of the Alzheimer's Association of Massachusetts and served on Board of the Asperger/Autism Network. Dr. O'Connor's conducts research on amnesia, ECT, TMS, delirium, and driving, and she has been an INS Member-at-Large, member of the INS Educational Task Force, Clinical Case Editor for the INS Newsletter, and served on numerous INS Program Committees.

Secretary

Celiane Rey-Casserly, Ph.D. directs the Center for Neuropsychology and Clinical Neuropsychology Postdoctoral Fellowship Program at Boston Children's Hospital, holds a faculty appointment at Harvard Medical School, and is on staff at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Her clinical work focuses on children with complex medical and neurological disorders. Her scholarly work examines neurobehavioral outcomes in neurofibromatosis-1 and childhood cancer, and she currently serves on the editorial board of the American Psychologist.

Members-At-Large

Miriam Beauchamp, Ph.D. is Associate Professor in neuropsychology at the University of Montreal (Canada) and a developmental neuropsychologist in the fields of traumatic brain injury (TBI), neuroimaging, and social cognition with an Adjunct appointment at McGill University. She conducts research at the Ste-Justine Hospital Research Center and is a consulting editor of Neuropsychology and ad hoc reviewer for JINS. In 2015, Dr. Beauchamp was awarded the INS Early Career Award.

Ashok Jansari, Ph.D. is a Senior Lecturer at Goldsmiths, University of London. His research explores Accelerated Long-term Forgetting (ALF), variation in face-processing ability from prosopagnosia to super-recognition, and assessment of executive functions. In 2008 he received a Media Fellowship from the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Ashok has served on the INS Education Task Force, International Liaison Committee, and 2016 London Program Committee.

Mieke Verfaellie, Ph.D. is a Senior Research Career Scientist at the VA Boston Healthcare System and Professor of Psychiatry at Boston University School of Medicine. Her research has focused on patients with focal amnesia as a model system for understanding memory disorders and the cognitive and neural architecture of memory. She serves as Associate Editor for JINS and Cognitive Neuropsychology, and have served on the editorial board of Neuropsychologia, Neuropsychology, and Brain and Cognition.